

The Digital Entertainment Revolution

Helping the hospitality industry navigate the new digital frontier

Your guests have heightened expectations. They demand the same entertainment options when traveling that they enjoy at home. Today, providing guests with all the entertainment possibilities digital offers is essential to the success of your hospitality business.

Best Buy® offers a broad array of affordable solutions to help make the analog-to-digital transition easier. We know you want to stay focused on providing your guests an outstanding experience, so let Best Buy take care of all the details.

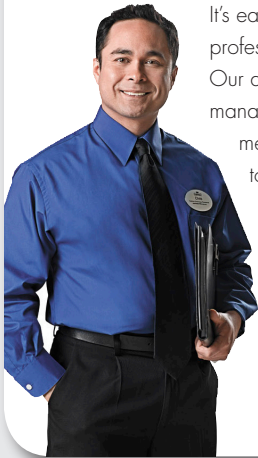

As a national reseller of digital LCDs and plasma displays, Best Buy offers a wide range of commercial services, including on-site consultations and custom solutions based on our broad selection of products, as well as services and project management. We can also dispose of your old equipment in an environmentally responsible manner.

We also offer financing that helps preserve cash flow by turning your purchase into an affordable monthly payment instead of a capital outlay. Moreover, our extended warranty offerings and service plans help ensure you get the most out of your investment.

The transition from analog to digital television is the most significant advancement of television technology since color TV was introduced 50 years ago. The key is to let Best Buy ease the transition by helping you select the right equipment without creating time-consuming work for you and your staff.

Whether you want a simple digital installation or to completely revamp your in-room entertainment experience to state of the art, you can count on the knowledge and experience Best Buy offers.

Meet with a Pro

It's easy to get professional advice. Our account managers can meet with you to develop customized technology solutions that are perfect for you.

As a national reseller of digital LCDs and plasma displays, Best Buy offers a wide range of commercial services including on-site consultations and custom solutions based on our broad selection of products, as well as services and project management. We can also dispose of your old equipment in an environmentally responsible manner.

Expect the exceptional with Best Buy

- The convenience of a single supplier with national coverage for a complete solution
- The option to choose the television and entertainment products that are right for you or to select from product bundles — including models with built-in digital rights management such as Pro-Idiom®
- Delivery and installation when it's convenient for you
- Removal and recycling of replaced electronics and packaging
- The option to choose from various service plans
- Financing options and extended warranties that make it easy to buy
- In-room appliance offerings such as clocks with iPod docking stations, hair dryers, coffeemakers, compact fridges and beverage centers

Flexible service and support

With Best Buy, you can design an installation plan that complements your internal capabilities, or choose a turnkey solution where Best Buy designs, configures and installs your complete in-room experience. Here's all that we offer:

- Project management
- Site survey and design
- Installation of TV, mount and remote
- Recycling of old TV and all packing materials
- Installation of Jack Packs
- Installation of appliances
- Cable runs
- Hot swap of "down" TV
- Cloning of remotes throughout facility
- Universal remote programming

Get ready now

The right solution is just a phone call away.